Certified Foresight & Innovation

Qualification programs

The Certified Foresight & Innovation (CFI) Qualification programs offers a comprehensive pathway for professionals to develop expertise in anticipating future trends, fostering innovation, and strategically navigating change. The program comprises three levels of certification:

1. oresight & Innovation Associate (CFIA®):

• CFIA serves as an entry-level qualification, providing participants with foundational knowledge and skills in foresight and innovation.
• Participants learn about basic foresight methodologies, trend analysis, and introductory innovation techniques.
• CFIA holders are equipped to contribute to foresight and innovation projects within their organizations, supporting teams and fostering a culture of innovation.

2. Certified Foresight & Innovation Practitioner (CFIP®):

• CFIP represents an intermediate level of expertise, building upon the foundation laid by CFIA.
• Participants deepen their understanding of foresight methodologies, such as scenario planning, horizon scanning, and futures thinking.
• Advanced innovation techniques, including design thinking, agile innovation processes, and innovation management, are covered.
• CFIP holders are capable of leading foresight and innovation initiatives, driving organizational change, and shaping future strategies.

3. Certified Foresight & Innovation Strategist (CFIS®):

• CFIS is the pinnacle of the CFI program, designed for experienced professionals seeking to become strategic leaders in foresight and innovation.
• Training at this level focuses on developing strategic foresight capabilities, including creating robust futures scenarios, devising long-term innovation strategies, and integrating foresight into decision-making processes.
• CFIS holders are recognized as experts in the field, capable of guiding organizations through complex and uncertain environments, identifying emerging opportunities, and mitigating future risks.
